Crash Hurts 2 Women

Tilt! Car Ends Up On Nose

Two Glenmoor women remain hospitalized today with injuries suffered in this car's headlong dive off Dresden Ave. Thursday that left it standing on its nose against the front wall of a home.

Mrs. Maxine Hesch, 31, of Yeager Rd., a passenger, was in "poor" condition at City Hospital with a fractured leg and lacerations of the left knee and forehead. Mrs. Patricia M. Reight, 29, of Me-

Donald St., the driver, was in "fair" condition with possible chest injuries.

The inbound auto skidded out of control after rounding a turn, knocked down a metal fence and then dived over the embankment, coming to rest against the home of Charles Wright Jr., 1102 Dresden Ave.

Mrs. Reight and Mrs. Hesch were trapped in the car, jammed underneath the dash and against the firewall.

Police and ambulance attendants used a ladder to climb into a position where they could extricate the women. The ladder can be seen leaning against the car's undercarriage.

The crash was timed at 10:53 a. m. Mrs. Reight told Patrolman Jerry Adkins she had rounded a turn at the top of a grade when the car "be-

Home Winds Up His Talks With Johnson

Premier Makes It Clear England Will Trade With Cuba

WASHINGTON (AP) — Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home of Great Britain wings home today after his get-acquainted talks with President Johnson, having made clear England will continue trading with Cuba.

The main purpose of the Anglo-American summit, spokesmen stressed, was for Johnson and Douglas-Home to get to know each other before each is caught up in the whirl of election campaigns.

In this respect the get-together was a complete success, said a high American official, who commented: "The farmer from Scotland and the farmer from Texas understood each other perfectly."

Although Thursday's joint communique at the conclusion of the two-day meeting mentioned only points on which Johnson and Douglas-Home agreed, both sides conceded that there were issues on which—as the British leader put it at a later news conference — "differences in emphasis" exist.

They were trade with Cuba, and trade with and credits to Communist countries. Britain views trade as its lifeblood and, as Douglas-Home put it, does not believe in boycotts.

The two government leaders and their foreign policy chiefs, Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Foreign Secretary Richard A. Butler, devoted most of their time to the crisis in Cyprus.

Relatively little time was devoted to other issues, informants said. Where opinions differed, the positions were stated forcefully and it was quickly recognized that no persuasion would close the gap.

Levy Defeat May Close Chester Park

Closing of the Chester City Park because of lack of finances and possible return of the park to the city and fire department are being considered by the Park Commission as a result of the failure of a special park levy in the Feb. 4 election.

At a meeting of the Park Commission and Central Committee Thursday night at the park, the commission discussed closing of the park to the public until adequate funds are available to operate the park and pay off its debts.

Harold Dickey, chairman, said the alternative would be to turn the park back to the city which would then, under the terms of the original deed, give the tract back to the volunteer fire department which obtained the land in 1954.

The commission last night voted against any further indebtedness to operate the facility. It was pointed out the five members — Clifford Com. Dickey, John Pinney, Lawrence Cline and John Burnquist—have agreed to personal responsibility.

Decision Due On Place For Ruby's Trial

Attorneys Ready To Quiz Prospective Jurors On Monday

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Attorneys for both the state and defense, awaiting a decision today on a change of venue motion, said they are prepared to start questioning prospective jurors Monday for the Jack Ruby murder trial.

Dist. Judge Joe B. Brown said he would rule at 3 p.m. (EST) on the defense's request to move the trial to another city in Texas. He could grant the motion, deny it, or could reserve a final decision until after efforts are made to empanel a jury here. The trial is scheduled to begin Monday if it is not transferred.

Melvin Belli, chief defense counsel, said Thursday he believed "the chances are pretty good" that Brown would direct the lawyers to try to get a jury here. But Belli predicted that a jury could not be picked and that he would then get a change of venue.

Carolina Ave. Site Chosen For Post Office In Chester

A double lot on the north side of Carolina Ave. between 3rd and 4th Sts., has been selected as the site for the proposed new Chester Post Office, it was announced today.

Sen. Robert C. Byrd and Sen. Jennings Randolph in Washington made the announcement in a telegram to Dick Wright of Route 30, Chester, chairman of the Hancock County Democratic Executive Committee.

The site is at the property owned by heirs of the late Dr. J. L. Pyle, and lies between the dwellings of Kenneth A. Kimble, 321 Carolina Ave., and Carl H. Reaser, 335 Carolina Ave., the latter also the location of the Mode Parree Beauty Shop.

The announcement describes the size of the tract as 14,500 square feet.

It fronts on Carolina Ave., between City Hall and Herche's Drugstore on the north side of Carolina Ave.

A large, two-story dwelling and a double garage presently occupy one of the lots.

Wright commented that Sen. Byrd has been working hard on obtaining a proper site for the new building for some time. The White House gave its approval to the choice, according to the wire.

Selection of the site clears the way for the Post Office Department to seek competitive bidding on construction of the new structure. Under normal

Conferees Setting Up Tax Slash

Millions Due To Draw Bigger Pay Starting In March

WASHINGTON (AP) — House and Senate conferees expect to hammer out a tax reduction compromise in about three days next week—which would mean millions of Americans could begin drawing bigger pay envelopes before mid-March.

One day of preliminary discussions this week apparently demonstrated willingness on both sides to resolve amicably the more than 200 changes the Senate made in the House bill. All but a handful of these are technical or minor.

The conferees get back to discussions and probably start voting Monday. One of them predicted agreement by Wednesday—possibly even by Tuesday—on a bill to reduce personal and corporate income taxes by about $11.5 billion. This would be bigger than the House cut and smaller than the Senate version.

Last week the Senate approved a cut of $11.6 billion. The House had approved a cut of $11.1 billion last Sept. 25.

The rest of the week would be needed to write a conference report and the House would be expected to act—with approval virtually assured—about Feb. 24. Senate leaders have spoken of taking the measure up the day the House finishes work on it. Under such a schedule, the bill could go to President Johnson for his prompt signature before the end of February.

Withholding rate cuts—the equivalent of a small pay raise for wage-earning and salaried Americans—would begin a week later if, as expected, the conferees retain the Senate wording on this point.

Two big issues are in controversy between the two chambers. The House voted more lenient tax treatment of certain long-term capital gains than present law provides. The Senate deleted this provision.

Another major difference between the two bills relates to the deduction, for federal income tax purposes, of state and local taxes. The House bill would abolish the deduction of state and local gasoline and special excise taxes, like those on tobacco and liquor, but permit income, general sales and real estate still to be deducted. The Senate version would continue the present provisions.

Aged Man Left To Die In Beaver Lift-Skip

BEAVER — Police today were hunting a hit-skip driver who apparently ran down 85-year-old Steve Stare from behind Thursday night and left the New Brighton transient dying along Route 51 in West Bridgewater.

Dr. John Colavincenzo, Beaver County coroner, estimated the victim was hit about 7 p.m. by either a car or truck and died about 20 minutes later. His body wasn't spotted until about 9 p.m. by a passing motorist, who notified Rochester police.

IRONTON, Ohio (AP) — Huxley Kennedy, Ironton's city manager for the past five years, submitted his resignation Thursday night to City Council. Kennedy did not give a reason nor did he divulge future plans. Council did not accept the resignation immediately but voted to act on it at a later meeting.

New-Born Infant Found In Vacant Home

Police pushed an investigation today to locate the mother of a new-born baby girl that was found abandoned Thursday in the cellar of a vacant home in East End.

Chief Americo J. Radeschi said the infant showed signs of fever when it first was taken to City Hospital yesterday, but it is doing nicely today.

Obviously born only a short time before it was discovered, the child was found entirely unclothed in a cardboard box in the cellar of a home at 930 Kent St. that has been unoccupied for three years, the chief said.

The investigation was touched off at 10:15 a. m. when a telephone call was received at headquarters from a woman reporting discovery of the infant.

Mrs. Thelma Miller, 926 Kent St., explained she went to the vacant home, described as her family's homestead, to look at some toys and furniture which she had stored there.

When she entered the home, she heard an "odd noise," so she ran to her home to get her husband, Ralph Miller, she related.

Miller told police he entered the home, looked around and didn't see anything. He said he was about to leave when he heard a noise that seemed to come from the cellar.

Investigating, he found the new-born infant in a box on the cellar floor near the chimney. Miller then called his wife and daughter, Mrs. Patricia Plant. Mrs. Plant took the child to the home of her parents. An ambulance was summoned and the child was taken to the hospital.

Radeschi said the infant was in a cardboard box about 20 inches square. He said a piece of cloth, evidently part of an old tablecloth, was placed over the top of the box.

He asked anyone who has information that might lead to identification of the mother to notify police. If the informants do not want their names made public, their identification will be kept secret, the chief said.

He said Juvenile Court authorities advised the child will not be available for adoption, at least for the present. He said the juvenile authorities sought to avoid a flood of telephone calls from persons seeking to adopt the infant.

The person who abandoned the baby apparently gained entrance to the home through an unlocked rear door, the chief said. He said investigation indicates the child was born in some other spot, then taken to the vacant home.

U.S.-British Suggestion Brushed Off

Sporadic Fighting Persists Between Greeks And Turks

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — President Makarios today rejected the British - American proposal to land an international peace force on embattled Cyprus and will take the matter to the United Nations immediately, authoritative diplomatic sources said.

Sporadic fighting persisted between Greek and Turkish Cypriots.

There was no immediate official statement from Makarios or from U.S. Undersecretary of State George Ball, who ended three days of discussions in Nicosia.

Presidential palace sources said the Greek Cypriot leader insisted that any international force be under control of the U.N. Security Council.

The U.S.-British plan called for an Atlantic Alliance army of 10,000 men with about 2,000 U.S. soldiers to keep peace.

There was no reaction to the hint from high Washington sources that Makarios wants an international peace force of British Commonwealth nations excluding American soldiers. Cyprus has been a commonwealth member since independence from Britain in 1960.

Greece and Turkey have treaties to defend Cyprus from aggression and both keep small garrisons on Cyprus for that purpose.

Turkey is determined to protect the Turkish Cypriot minority, which charges Makarios wants to curb its rights by constitutional changes. These set off the fighting that began last Christmas and brought in more British troops as a truce force.

The cease-fire reached after savage fighting Thursday at Limassol on the south coast restored relative calm in this eastern Mediterranean island.

Sporadic shooting was reported, however, in the western coast city of Paphos this morning.

British truce officials said that before the guns were silenced in Limassol, at least 16 Turkish cypriots and one Greek Cypriot were killed. More than 35 Turks were wounded but the number of Greek wounded was not known, the British said.

Defense Aims At Sinatra's Kidnap Story

Bent On Proving Abduction Just Publicity Hoax

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A trio of defense lawyers, bent upon proving a publicity hoax, try today to shake the story of Frank Sinatra Jr. that his kidnapping was real and frightening.

Young Sinatra has only a few minutes of direct testimony left today as a government witness. Then his cross-examination starts.

Sinatra, 19 at the time of the kidnapping but since turned 20, testified in U.S. District Court Thursday that he was kidnapped from Lake Tahoe last Dec. 8 "with a gun in my ribs."

He told how he was blindfolded, given sleeping pills and held captive for 54 hours until his father paid $240,000 ransom.

Prime target of the cross-examination undoubtedly will be Sinatra's own story of how he cooperated with his alleged abductors to elude a police roadblock. The defense has charged that Sinatra cooperated in the deed so that the publicity "would make the girls swoon over him as they did over his papa."

Sinatra, under oath, denied any such motive.

"My state of mind was fear—and the question: Why was all of this happening to me?" Sinatra said.

He testified he cooperated in the roadblock evasion because of two remarks made by the two men in the car.

He said they said: "If there is any trouble, there's going to be shooting."

And "Jeez, this gun is uncomfortable in my belt."

The frail witness, sometimes extremely poised, occasionally nervous, told the court that his ordeal began when a tall young man entered his room at Harrah's Lodge with a wine carton, ostensibly a gift.

"Then he removed a black leather glove from his right hand and produced a small caliber revolver."

"At first, I just stared blankly at the weapon. I thought that it might have been a very bad joke."

The intruder was identified in court by Sinatra as defendant Barry Keenan, 23. The other defendants are Joseph Amsler, 23, and John Irwin, 42. Sinatra said he was blindfolded all but a few minutes during his captivity. He could not identify the other defendants.

Redistricting Bill Action Due In Senate

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — The legislature's extraordinary session, a week old today, still had not hammered out a House reapportionment plan that could pass both chambers on the twin counts of political effects and safety from another court attack.

Pending in the Senate today was amendment action on the bill which the House passed 78-19 two days ago. The Senate Redistricting Committee has recommended major changes. Several attempts to amend the bill from the floor also were expected.

If the Senate passes the bill in the form recommended by the redistricting committee, the House almost certainly will refuse to concur.

Already there was talk among delegates that House reapportionment is the House's business and the Senate should accept what the House passes.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) — The government completed its case against James R. Hoffa today on the last day of the fourth week of his jury-tampering trial.

Special prosecutor John J. Hooker of Nashville rested the government case at 10:14 a.m., after presenting Albert J. Gasdor, a court reporter from Washington, D.C., as his final witness.

In other action, Council named William Monac Jr. to the police force on a six-month probationary period to replace Patrolman Mike Boratto, who has quit to accept a position at the Crucible Steel Co.

Raymond Presutti of the police committee said Monac had qualified under the Civil Service Law.

Further Tariff Cuts Seen Peril To Existing Plants

Additional reductions in the duty on pottery will mark the start of a new era for much of the remaining American industry for extinction, C. Frank Dales, vice president of the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters, warned Thursday in testimony before the U. S. Tariff Commission at Washington.

"Cutting pottery tariffs further will have the effect of taking jobs out of American communities already suffering from unemployment and exporting those jobs to Japan," he said.

Budget Shows $26,124 Hike For Midland

Tentative Amount Of $517,768 Aired At Council Session

A tentative 1964 budget providing $517,768 for borough operations was set Thursday night by Midland Council.

Recreation, health and sanitation and protection will show a decrease from 1963.

The breakdown of the proposed budget shows:

The proposed budget will now be placed for public inspection for 10 days before final adoption.

In other action, Council named William Monac Jr. to the police force on a six-month probationary period to replace Patrolman Mike Boratto, who has quit to accept a position at the Crucible Steel Co.

Raymond Presutti of the police committee said Monac had qualified under the Civil Service Law.

Light Rain Or Snow Predicted Saturday

Tri-State area motorists who had to put up with a 2-inch snow Thursday and a light skim of snow this morning will get no relief Saturday.

The forecast is for "a chance of" light rain or snow tomorrow and with sub-freezing temperatures expected tonight, it is probably more than a gamble.

The downtown had a 30-degree reading at 6 a. m. and it dropped to 29 within an hour, but the forenoon had a warmup under a bright sun. Highways were reported slippery in spots from the fresh snow this morning on top of the slickness remaining from yesterday's snow after the freezing night.

Kiwanians Told Of Scouting Aid For Area Youths

The role of scouting in aiding area youths was discussed by Robert Hepburn, new Cherokee District executive, at a meeting of the Kiwanis Club Thursday at the Travelers Hotel.

Hepburn screened a film on Gordon Cooper, U. S. astronaut, who described his boyhood scout activities and how they benefited him.

Hepburn spoke on the scope of youth programs of the Cherokee District, and the number of boys in the Cub, Scout and Explorer levels.

He said there is a need for more boys in the program and more adult leaders to implement the scout goals. He was introduced by Joseph Prager.

About 40 attended. Norman Nicely, president, was in charge.

Two members of Midland Explorer Post 482 won the coveted rank of Eagle Scout at a dinner program attended by 71 in the Crucible Steel Co. management diningroom Thursday night.

Recipients were James Huha, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Huha Jr., 828 Maryland Ave., and Bruce Humbert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Humbert, 1248 Virginia Ave. The parents and 22 members of the post attended.

John Auman of Pittsburgh, director of camping for the Allegheny Boy Scout Council, conducted the pinning ceremony, and Frank Carver of Beaver, athletic director of the University of Pittsburgh, was guest speaker.

Other guests were James J. D'Amico of Avalon and Albert P. Troiani and Charles McNeillie, both of Midland, former Eagle Scouts; A. W. Gittens of Pittsburgh and William Howell of Beaver, former works managers at Crucible; James Scholl of Beaver and Leroy Turner, vice chairman of the Ft. McIntosh Boy Scout District.

County Planners Propose Survey

A basic survey of Columbiana County by volunteer committees and plans for a speaking program were mapped by the County Regional Planning Commission at a meeting Thursday night at the Courthouse.

Personnel and objectives of six committees — to include some 140 members throughout the county — were discussed at the session attended by 13.

THE committees and chairmen selected from the commission by Floyd Lower of Lisbon, president, include:

Land use, Dawson Irely; parks, recreation areas, Richard McCullough of East Liverpool; jobs, Richard Mattern of Glenmoor; water, George Bloomgren of East Liverpool; population, housing, education, Olan Sanor of East Rochester, and transportation, utilities, Erwood Calvin of Columbiana.

Some 130 community leaders and advisors from throughout the county have tentatively been chosen to serve on these study committees, and will meet in general session March 12 — probably at Lisbon — to be briefed on methods and objectives.

Information of all types will be compiled by the committees and organized to provide a total picture of the county as a fundamental step in planning.

THIS DATA will range through physical aspects of the county and its communities, recreation, industry, trade, labor, stores, various types of workers and job needs, water and sewer facilities and needs, health programs, population patterns, government, schools, housing, transportation, financial institutions and other data.

A basic speech outline, which members can use in explaining the commission and its plans to organizations in the county, was discussed and modified.

Lower said requests have been received for speakers about the regional group. Some 12 members previously volunteered to serve as Speakers Bureau.

THE GROUP discussed a proposed joint planning study with East Liverpool's "master plan" survey by Carroll Hill Associates of Columbus by which the county could obtain the survey at a reduced cost because of federal aid not available for a county survey alone.

The cost of the county survey alone would be about $45,000, according to Hill, who conferred with the commission's executive committee last week. Cost of participation with East Liverpool and another community — possibly Columbiana — would be about $8,000 for the county.

However, due to the uncertainty of the tentative costs and the fact the 1964 budget has not yet been completed for the county, the group decided to postpone participation in a municipality program until later.

COUNTY Commissioner Walter Hunston reported on tentative plans for a countywide meeting on industrial development at which a state government figure will speak in April. Three dates are being considered for the meeting, and further details are to be announced later, Hunston said.

The tentative budget for 1964, amounting to $4,000, was discussed, but action on approval was tabled until the next meeting.

Card Party Plans To Be Discussed By Center Group

Plans for the annual card party sponsored by the Child Counseling Center will be advanced when the committee meets tonight at 7:30 in the offices at Mary Patterson Memorial.

The event will be March 14 at the East Liverpool Country Club, with Mrs. J. Donald Thompson general chairman. Proceeds will go into the center's general fund to help meet operating expenses.

A report on plans for the annual dinner meeting was heard at Wednesday night's monthly meeting of the Board of Directors.

Miss Ethelyn Exley, chairman of the dinner committee, said the date for the event, at St. Aloysius School, will be announced later. She also reported on the activities of the speaker's bureau, of which she is chairman.

Another discussion was held on revision of the bylaws following a report by Mrs. Lillian Alpern and Paul Blair, co-chairmen of the committee in charge. Other members of the committee are Mrs. Thompson and Judge Louis Tobin.

Miss Kathleen Potter, secretary-receptionist, reported 65 new cases at the center since Sept. 14.

Mrs. Dorothy Horsley presided at Wednesday night's meeting.

Board Delays Class Change In Crestview

MIDDLETON — No final action was taken by the Fairfield-Waterford School District Board of Education Thursday night on a proposed reduction in the length of Crestview High School classes.

At present there are eight classes a day of about 45-minute duration. It has been proposed that the classes be lengthened to one hour, with only six scheduled daily.

This would permit division of class time into study periods under the supervision of the instructor, with reduction of the amount of separate study halls.

This would permit students with questions about their work to confer with the instructor involved, rather than be isolated in a separate study hall, school officials explained.

The board approved an appropriation of $498,690 for 1964. The school calendar was discussed, the board agreeing on a start of school before Labor Day, but no final action was taken in order to permit further study.

The board approved the purchase of two typewriters at $149 each for the commercial department along with a wood and metal lathe costing $592 for the shop. Also authorized was a $1,531 allotment for audio-visual aid equipment under the Title III program.

Joseph Driscoll, executive head, and Charles Crook, president, left today for the American School Administrators Association convention at Atlantic City.

Next meeting will be March 12.

Officials Award Contract To Buy Police Cruisers

Mayor Merrill D. Hall and Safety-Service Director Robert E. Vodrey Thursday afternoon awarded a $7,050 contract to Mike Turk, Inc., to furnish three 1964 Chevrolet V-8's for use as police cruisers.

The officials, comprising the Board of Control, acted on bids from five firms received Monday. Turk submitted the lowest offer.

Other bidders were: Central Service, Inc., Mackall Motors, Inc., Litten Motor Sales and Community Motor Sales.

Vodrey said Turk promised delivery of the new cars in four to five weeks. All will be specially-built for police work, including heavy-duty equipment, he said.

The three old cars which they will replace will be sold separately by the city, as there was no provision for trade-ins in the purchase agreement.

PROBLEM CHILDREN

Q. I have a 5-year-old who can really work up a storm. Why do children have temper tantrums?

A. Because they haven't learned self-control. Anger is a natural emotion. There are times when everyone would like to beat the floor and chew up the rug. Many doctors say that children fly off the handle for two reasons. They have found that tantrums put them in the center of the stage (and like ham actors they want all the attention). Or they may really believe that they have been denied something they should have. The child doesn't particularly care whether you agree with him or not.

AGE AND HEIGHT

Q. People seem to get shorter as they age. Why?

A. Between each bone in the spine there are moist, spongy discs (intervertebral discs) that act as shock absorbers. In later life these discs tend to lose water and shrink. Since there are 23 such discs in the vertebral column, very slight shrinkage of each disc would cause loss of an inch or more in height. There is also a tendency for the shoulders to bend forward so that the elderly person becomes roundshouldered. This tends to accentuate the actual loss in height.

Old Hands At The Game

The two British visitors talking with our President Johnson — Prime Minister Douglas - Home and Foreign Secretary R. A. Butler — will not get all the way down to rock bottom.

If they did and the shape of things on rock bottom could be described to the ordinary run of Americans, it might sound something like this in a resume of the British position:

"Her Majesty's government is not ashamed of international trade. For Britain, trade is survival. There is not and never can be any question of morality.

"Morality in international affairs, as a matter of fact, is a prerogative of the United States, whose wealth and ability to separate inordinately large sums of tax money from its well-to-do people enables it to take moral positions that would be out of the question for other national societies.

"But there is a peculiarity about U.S. morality in this regard. It varies according to the unpredictable variations of U.S. policy. It sometimes isn't moral.

We Have Gotten The Idea

President Johnson has been resolving his own doubts about how his countrymen want him to handle the presidency in public, we think.

Perhaps this is the only way he can make up his mind, because he is literally a public figure — a person who feels a public proprietorship over his life.

But if he is asking for popular judgment by opening his state of mind to intensive public view, he should know the one thing he is doing that may bring judgment on him harshly is to cover too much ground in public statements.

A president of the United States is not

"Thus, it is all right for Americans to sell wheat to the Soviet Union and all right for Canada to sell wheat to the Soviet Union but all wrong for Britain to sell buses to Cuba.

"It is all right for the United States to make moves in Southeastern Asia that Imperial British Malaya but all wrong for Great Britain to cooperate with France in developing a supersonic airplane that may take business away from U.S. plane manufacturers.

"It is all right for the United States to give generous aid and comfort to Franco's Spain but all wrong for Britain, which must buy sugar, to obtain some of it from Cuba. And so on and on and on.

"All this, chappies, goes with being Anglo-Saxon. It is part of the price we pay for being part of the oldest surviving ethnic partnership in the world. Between our expediency and your morality, we keep all our antagonists and most of our friends off balance. Ourselves, too. Carry on!"

like an ordinary man when he speaks. Everything a president says is studied for meaning and mood.

If he says so much that those responding to his thoughts must make lists, as they have been doing lately, and respond categorically, the performance gets out of hand.

President Johnson would be well-advised by his press secretaries to comment on one thing at a time and do that half as often as he has been commenting lately.

The presidency is not a stream-of-consciousness position. Everything that comes out of it is the responsibility of the American people.

sian travel in the U.S. because of Russia's restrictions on American travel do not seem consistent with our pride as a land of liberty, either. We are not all that scared of the downtrodden from abroad seeing how we live, are we?

A while ago, an American correspondent wanted to take some Russians from the U.N. up to his comfortable home in Connecticut but could not because we don't let the Russians travel that much in this country. The correspondent said, "I think I could have done a good job of subversion against Russia by letting them see our town."

Somewhat along the same line is an editorial in the Saturday Evening Post calling for less hypocrisy in our immigration laws. Those laws now make a mockery of the famous promise put so eloquently on the Statue of Liberty in New York Harbor. "Give me your tired, your poor, your huddled masses . . ."

WHO CAN SAY how much Khrushchev was impressed by his visit to the U.S.? He at least backed off in the Cuban crisis.

It has always been a subject of interesting speculation to me to consider what similar visits to the U.S. might have had before World War II.

The industrialization of Pittsburgh and Detroit might have given them cause for pause in their dash for world domination.

Khrushchev waded around in those bins of Iowa corn and recently swallowed his pride and hit us up for grain to feed his people.

This may cause you to throw up your hands in resignation and figure I am beyond help. But if not, please let me down easy. I have a thin skin, and I, too, am a thwarted world-runner.

Faithfully yours, pestilence. Starvation is avoidable to an extent undreamed of before U.S. agriculture learned how to grow surpluses, and war finally has been taken behind the lines to the statesmen, who consequently have lost their enthusiasm for it. The Three Horsemen have had it.

But stress will grow in algebraic progression as people multiply and crowd together, bugging one another until one by one we'll all gasp our last breath, victims of the stress syndrome.

THE THOUGHT is not cheerful, yet it is not without cheer, because people keep asking where it's all going to end.

The answer is in plain sight. We'll just keep milling around faster and faster until we bug one another to death. It will be the way a fellow worker of mine used to say it was before the stress syndrome finally got him.

"It ain't the work," he'd say as high blood pressure crimsoned his neck and head. "It's the tension that goes with getting it done. It'll kill you if you don't watch out."

It killed him.

Politics Is No Longer Old Hat!

Showdown Set On Overtime Bill

By Victor Riesel

If an aroused and reorganized National Association of Manufacturers (NAM) has its way there will be more embattled businessmen in New York City and Washington than there are Beatle maniacs. Industry's leaders have decided to counterpunch in a showdown fight with the Lyndon Johnson-labor coalition on the business and political fronts — starting now.

The first round will be fought in the next weeks over the White House drive to pass a law providing double time for overtime. The administration wants the creation of tri-partite committees which will rove around the country and select certain industries and businesses for such penalty pay for overtime work.

Labor Secretary Wirtz has said this would force employers to hire more than 900,000 new employees. He will be the first witness to appear before the House labor committee hearings on HR 9802 — the double overtime bill.

TO COUNTER this legislation, W. P. Gullander, president of the NAM, dispatched telegrams to about a thousand of the organization's larger affiliates Feb. 3. Mr. Gullander urged them to send their executives to Washington to testify against the bill.

When I talked with Mr. Gullander in New York, he aimed his barbs at the President and at Secretary Wirtz. He said double time for overtime work would simply curtail production and not make jobs.

"It seems a poor way to launch a war on poverty," he said, "to reduce the goods and services available to be shared among our population. Congress should reject this foolish plan."

The leader of the central organization of some 16,000 of the nation's smaller firms then charged that a double time for overtime law would make Willard Wirtz a virtual czar over industry.

"There is a great danger in this," added Gullander, "because the secretary of labor is committed to his own plan. In effect, this procedure gives him personal control over the employment practices and pay rates in all industries. Even under wartime wage controls there was no individual with more power than this."

THE BUSINESSMEN are not counting too heavily on winning the debate before the labor committee over what Gullander calls a bill laden with "mischiefs."

Now they are saying publicly that the best way to influence Congress is to help elect men to Congress openly and directly with the support of a national political organization similar to the machine (COPE) built by the AFL-CIO.

Labor has had a running start over the years. The "other side" has an organization, but it's just about to plunge into the ballot box arena. For five months now, some leading businessmen have been putting the final touches on what they call the Business-Industry Political Action Committee (BIPAC).

Operating out of a headquarters at 14 W. 49th St., New York City, it is ready to roll. Its national board, headed by Kenton Craven, chairman of the Board of the Mercantile Trust Co. of St. Louis, hopes to swing into 79 key congressional elections and perhaps some primaries this year. It will not get into the presidential race, but it is ready to stump for selected Senate and House candidates.

THESE SELECTIONS of candidates to be supported will be made by a bipartisan review committee made up of men drawn from the BIPAC board. It plans to pick candidates only in marginal districts — the areas where candidates friendly to business have been defeated by comparatively few votes.

The BIPAC decision will depend on whether the candidates conform to its credo, which can be summed up in these few lines:

"The typical BIPAC candidate is dedicated to: The principles of individual freedom embodied in the Constitution of the United States; sound economic and political policies; free, private and competitive enterprise and limited federal government."

"He is of highest integrity with a proven record of public and/or community service; he can be elected with the active support of individuals in the business community."

CANDIDATES will be sought out by the national board. BIPAC will not have state or regional clubs or branches, but will have one prominent businessman as the contact in each state. He, in turn, will be the liaison with local business management and with business associations already operating in the area. Some 250 of such trade associations or regional manufacturers' groups already have pledged support to BIPAC.

Corporate contributions will be used for educational purposes while individual contributions will go into the political fund to support active candidates. Thus the show-down — labor's politics on one side, business' new BIPAC on the other.

Everybody will know where everybody stands and victory will come to the most dedicated.

Odd Facts

The more intelligent a person is, the more quickly he becomes bored. Recent findings have revealed that people with limited IQ's do not find repetitious work monotonous, but in fact thrive on it — and that people with a high degree of intelligence are bored stiff by repetition.

Invaluable Criticism

By David Lawrence

True Sentiment Of Public Seen Necessary

President Johnson is learning the hard way. He has naturally felt the weight of his responsibility as world problems have recently borne down on him.

But he will discover sooner or later that his recently expressed concept disparaging the value of criticism is mistaken. David Lawrence

It may sound like a paradox, but the lever of spontaneous criticism by the people is the President's most valuable asset in arguing with foreign governments. The White House and State Department cannot express themselves as a rule except in the formal language of diplomacy. What the members of Congress say, however, is, after all, a reflection of public sentiment. Whether it portrays the views of a minority of the people today or a majority tomorrow and thus foretells future policy trends, the heads of governments abroad cannot brush it aside as inconsequential. It often affects or influences counter-policy.

President Johnson is experiencing, of course, for the first time the kind of criticism which is hard for any chief executive to answer when crises of various kinds are pressing him. Foreign governments, particularly the mischief makers in the Kremlin, are calling the turn in Viet Nam, in Zanzibar, in Cyprus, in the Congo, in Panama and in Cuba.

MR. JOHNSON, in an informal talk to Internal Revenue Service officials on Tuesday, spoke not so much on tax problems but on things around the world that evidently were very much on his mind and in the headlines. He said:

"All of these are distresses, and from time to time you will hear alarmists and people who like to jump on their government, people who like to criticize, people who find it quite impossible to be affirmative and constructive. They will join with some of our opponents and they will be almost as much of a problem as some of our other enemies."

It's rather surprising to hear the word "enemies" applied to those members of Congress who disagree with the President and for them to be lumped with our real enemies abroad. One has only to recall what was being said by Democrats during another presidential campaign just four years ago when President Eisenhower was striving to protect the American people and detect preparations for a nuclear attack as he permitted U-2 planes to fly periodically over the Soviet Union.

THE DEMOCRATIC chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee minced no words in his criticism of the administration's handling of this episode, and a little later on Sen. John F. Kennedy, as the Democratic presidential nominee, didn't hesitate to speak out on everything from the U-2 affair to the failure to take strong action against Castro in Cuba.

Under a totalitarian form of government, the national parliament as well as the press is suppressed or required to take the same view as does the head of the government.

In the United States, while partisanship is supposed to "end at the water's edge," criticisms that can help to protect the American people against humiliating defeats in foreign policy are not suppressed or limited in any way, even by "the water's edge."

Mr. Johnson says that criticism should be "affirmative and constructive." But what he really is saying is that comment is obnoxious or unpleasant unless it agrees with the policy being followed by the administration. Just the opposite viewpoint is held by the critics themselves, irrespective of party.

Today the criticism of the administration's policy in Cuba is that it is weak and irresolute and that it can lead to further offenses by Castro against the United States unless he is dealt with firmly now.

THE PRESIDENT has been urged to impose an effective economic blockade on Cuba, but he has ignored such constructive suggestions. He has been urged affirmatively to speak out against the policies of our allies in Europe who insist on strengthening the Cuban economy and who give the impression to the world that this country is being ignored by governments supposed to be its staunchest friends. Some criticism has been voiced on this perfunctorily by the State Department, but the president has not spoken up at all.

Mr. Johnson has been repeatedly advised by his critics to apply the historic policy of the United States known as the Monroe Doctrine, which Congress by resolution reaffirmed within the last few years. Had he and his predecessor accepted this advice, Khrushchev and the European governments would not now be aiding Castro, and the government of the United States would not have been placed as it is today in the humiliating position of being deprived of a water supply for its naval base at Guantanamo, which American troops occupy under specific treaty provisions.

CASTRO COMMITTED a military offense and also insulted the United States. Riots and intemperate speeches against the United States in Panama would never have occurred if a firm policy had been pursued toward Castro, who defies this country as he continues to send his agents, along with Soviet saboteurs, to other Latin-American countries to stir up more and more friction and animosity toward the United States.

The tension that preceded the famous Munich Conference in 1938 wasn't dissolved by appeasement or by indifference to the critics, whose words had been unheeded. These blunders helped to bring on World War II.

Members of Congress who criticize the administration's foreign policy do so because they fear that the present vacillation and irresolute course will only lead to bigger challenges and eventually to the inevitable war that nobody wants.

Letter To Editor

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW: I am seeking answers to a problem. Surely there is someone, somewhere who can supply me with the answer.

How good are the zoning laws of our land? Can any one with the money to pay the price break these laws because they want what they have?

A corporation has moved into our borough and has been digging and shipping hundreds of tons of sand and gravel away, leaving a hole of some 70 or 80 feet in depth. There is no intention of back filling. We have been told that is impossible.

Since this digging started, our borough Council had Michael Baker Jr., Inc., of Rochester, Pa., prepare a set of zoning laws so as to stop this destruction of surrounding properties. Now this corporation has informed our Council that they have purchased adjoining property to the one that has been dug out and that they will dig regardless. All this in defiance of the zoning law.

One attorney told the Council that he couldn't guarantee that the zoning law would hold up. Why? Is this where the so-called money talks. Can a community be sold out just like that?

Now back to the question. How good are the zoning laws of the land.

New Museum

Miss Liberty will soon have a new attraction for visitors at her feet.

The American Museum of Immigration, being built at the base of the Statue of Liberty in New York harbor, will document the story of immigration and its contribution to the growth and greatness of the United States.

National Park Service administrators hope to complete the museum to coincide with the 1964 New York World's Fair.

Exhibit halls, an auditorium for films and patriotic ceremonies, a library, study rooms for visiting scholars, and a Hall of Records will be grouped within the walls of star-shaped Fort Wood, which encompasses the statue.

Dioramas and murals will dramatize the arrival of a parade of immigrants ranging from the earliest wanderers from Asia across a Bering Sea land bridge, to Cuban refugees.

industry is hanging on by its fingernails with approximately half of the earthenware production going to premiums.

"If those soap manufacturers quit putting the cups and saucers in those boxes, some of the 17 remaining major earthenware potteries will follow the lead of the 15 going out of business since 1954. Moreover, if the premium business gets good enough, we have no assurance that overseas producers won't go after that, too," he added.

Official Labor Department statistics peg the average hourly wage in the domestic industry at $2.31 an hour and the wage in Japan at 39 cents, he said.

"SINCE direct labor costs are about 60 per cent of the selling price, we are literally being placed in head-to-head competition with 39-cent labor, and of course we cannot produce goods as cheaply," Dales said.

He observed that a year ago the Tariff Commission investigated both the earthenware and household china segments of the industry.

"If the Tariff Commission had found that the wage differential made it impossible for the American industry to compete, both the industry and the workers would have been eligible for assistance under terms of the Trade Expansion Act of 1962," he said.

"We thought we had a classic case, but instead of getting economic assistance and retraining, thousands of our members found they had been left out in the cold.

"THEIR jobs are gone. They live in communities where other jobs are almost impossible to find. Their families are growing, but even if they could move, they have no skills now in demand and no jobs to move to.

"The pottery industry is concentrated in small towns like Sebring, and Chester, and in depressed areas like that around Wheeling. These are towns and areas with unemployment rates in excess of 6 per cent.

"Because of the Tariff Commission ruling that the pottery industry hasn't competed as effectively as it could against Japanese imports, a position we dispute, thousands of our members and the communities where they live face bleak futures," he said.

"I URGE you to recommend that we not be kicked while we're down," he added.

Dales' testimony was a part of a mutual presentation by seven AFL-CIO unions banded together in the Stone, Glass and Clay Co-ordinating Committee. The group, representing approximately 250,000 workers, procedure, the successful bidder would assume an option on the land, erect the new building and lease it to the Post Office Department, usually on a long-term agreement.

Advised of the announcement, Chester Postmaster Robert Edwards said "I am very well pleased, regardless of where the site is. I think a new building would be an asset to the city of Chester."

Edwards said an increase in business in the past few years will mean a jump in rating for the Chester Post Office to one similar to East Liverpool.

Stamp receipts for 1963 amounted to $178,000, Edwards said.

He was named acting postmaster two and a half years ago and received a permanent appointment Oct. 2, 1963.

The site chosen for the new building is street level, and there is an alley in the rear for access.

Some time ago, a 5th St. site had been mentioned as the location of the new office but the choice was later discarded.

Judge Frees Man In Crash

Acting Municipal Judge Robert A. Kapp today dismissed for lack of evidence a case in which a St. Clair Township man was accused of forcing a Beaver County man's auto off Harvey Ave. last Friday, causing it to crash into a parked car.

The court dismissed a reckless driving charge against Terry Fullerton of Valley Dr., Calcutta, who was accused of reckless driving in an affidavit signed by Joseph S. Lidak of Industry R. D. 1.

After presentation of the prosecution's case, the acting judge granted a motion by Atty. Donald E. Smith, defense counsel, to dismiss the charge for insufficient evidence.

Testimony was taken from Lidak, owner of the auto allegedly forced off the street by Fullerton's car. Lidak said he was a passenger in the auto, with Dave Varnovich of Midland as the driver. Varnovich did not appear.

Lidak testified he and Varnovich were pursued along Pennsylvania Ave., Elizabeth St. and Harvey Ave. by Fullerton's car. He said Fullerton and other men in the Calcutta man's auto sought to fight with Varnovich because of an argument earlier in an East End restaurant.

At a spot on Harvey Ave. near Putnam St., Fullerton pulled alongside the Beaver County auto, Lidak testified. He said Varnovich, fearing a collision, pulled to the right and hit a parked car owned by Donna Jean Barrett, 1918 Harvey Ave.

In his motion for dismissal, Smith pointed out Varnovich did not appear to testify.

"The passenger was not in control of the car," he said.

gan to spin around in circles and went over the bank." She said she did not apply the brakes. She estimated her speed at 5 to 10 miles an hour.

A wrecker finally pulled out the 1955 sedan last night, leading to new complications. Central Station firemen were called to the scene at 8:28 when the wrecked car caught fire, apparently from spilled gasoline. In the removal work, the gas line leading to the Wright home was broken, firemen said. They notified the Ohio Valley Gas Co.

While headed for the scene to investigate the crash, a police cruiser operated by Patrolman Adkins skidded on the icy Dresden Ave. pavement and bumped a utility pole.

Adkins was X-rayed and examined at City Hospital for possible leg injuries, then later was released.

The collision damaged the left rear door and fender of the 1963 model cruiser, the police report said.

Adkins reported he was on River Rd. when he received a radio call of an accident on Dresden Ave. in which two women were believed trapped in the wrecked car.

He said as he drove along Dresden Ave. he did not see any sign of the wrecked auto, which was over a grade below street level. He said an unidentified man began waving to him and pointing over the hillside to indicate the crash scene.

The officer said he applied the brakes to slow the cruiser and the auto slid to the left and hit the pole. He said he tried to avoid hitting the pole but had no control of the car because of the slippery pavement.

Moffitt told officers he was unable to avoid the collision, when the woman pulled onto the highway, because of wet and slick roads. Both were north-bound.

Brings Flood Of Speculation

Cleveland's School Head Quits In Wake Of Crisis

CLEVELAND (AP) — Resignation of School Supt. William B. Levenson in the wake of this city's school integration crisis has brought a flood of speculation as to the reasons for Levenson's action.

Levenson himself declined to say what was behind his announcement Thursday that he is leaving the $25,000-a-year job at the end of the current school year.

The announcement came a few hours after Levenson received from Ralph A. McAllister, School Board president, a letter ordering immediate integration of bus - transported classes of predominantly Negro pupils who travel daily to three predominantly white schools.

McAllister's letter called for "definite and unambiguous" planning for implementation of the policy set down by the board in response to demands from civil rights groups.

McAllister said he did not think his letter to Levenson ordering integration of transported classes was the cause of the resignation. He said Levenson had telephoned him and called it "a fine letter."

Leaders of the local chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People issued a statement saying, "If there is a resignation in order, we suggest it should be that of the board president."

The NAACP leaders said the resignation had the earmarks of a clash between Levenson and "a board president who has failed to exercise the type of leadership required for modern - day educational challenges."

"Many persons in the NAACP are under the impression that the president of the board deliberately provoked a situation in an effort to give the superintendent no choice but to resign in order to maintain his professional integrity," the NAACP said.

Levenson, 56, has worked in the Cleveland school system for 36 years and became superintendent in 1961.

Board members said efforts would be made to get Levenson to reconsider, but it was considered doubtful that the superintendent would change his mind.

The Lenten Story

BY WOODY ISHMAEL

THY FAITH HATH MADE THEE WHOLE

On His way out of Jericho en route to the triumphant entry into Jerusalem, Jesus worked one of His last miracles. He cured Bartimaeus, the blind beggar who sat by the roadside and began crying out when he heard Jesus of Nazareth was passing by.

The crowd tried to hush him, but Jesus called and asked him, "What wilt thou that I should do unto thee?"

The blind man said unto Him, "Lord, that I may see."

And Jesus said unto him, "Go thy way, thy faith hath made thee whole." And immediately he received his sight, and followed Jesus along the road. (Mark XI: 46-52)

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: Here's what I do to prevent perspiration stains from leaving ugly rings around the armholes of my cotton dresses and blouses. Before they are even worn for the first time, I turn the garments inside out, spray the underarms with spray starch (not plastic) and then iron dry. Then I repeat this on the right side of the material.

When I iron a dress or blouse completely, I spray the outer side of the armhole extra heavy with starch. I repeat this procedure each time the garment is washed and ironed. I have done this for several months and all perspiration stains just float away when I wash my cotton dresses or blouses.

Some people prefer cooked starch for every day use, but a can of spray starch would be a wise investment used right over other starches.

I also give my daughter's play clothes an extra heavy spray on the seat of her shorts and slacks, and the dirt rolls away when they're washed.

MRS. CHARLES SPRINKLE.

DEAR FOLKS: It's a proven fact that starch, when applied to certain fabrics, puts a coat over the fibers. We find that a thin spray of starch (not the plastic type) does help prevent perspiration rings and soil marks from becoming imbedded in the fibers of many materials. Especially cottons.

Perspiration stains contain bacteria. Why not apply a thin coat of starch to absorb these stains so they may be easily washed out, rather than let them soak into the fibers where they are hard to loosen?

As the starch washes out each wash day, the stains and bacteria will be easier to remove. I still highly recommend using a vinegar rinse (one-fourth c.) to each two quarts of water) to rinse anything that has bacteria or perspiration odors.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I would like to pass this time-saving and inexpensive hint to all of the ladies who give wedding or baby showers.

For the "wishes" . . . rather than try to think up all of these wishes (which, incidentally, takes quite some time) buy some Chinese fortune cookies.

These are lots of fun and something different, for not many people use them. They can usually be bought in any restaurant which sells chow mein and cost only about 40 cents a dozen.

This way the group can get their "wishes" when the luncheon is served.

MRS. ROY M.

DEAR HELOISE: Before throwing away any old pin cushion, slit it open and dump the contents in a large shallow bowl.

The harvest of needles will be terrific! I used to wonder where all my needles went. Now I know.

MARION GAGE.

In order not to lose so many needles in the first place . . .

always pin a needle "side-ways," never stick it directly down into pin cushion.

DEAR HELOISE: When a pair of nylon stockings is reduced to the hopeless stage:

Pull out some threads and wind them on a spool.

This thread will come in handy for mending small tears in your current stockings. By taking some thread from each shade of stocking you will get a true match in color when you need it.

BLANCHE CAMPBELL.

And did you know that a thread from a nylon stocking (even a hair from your head) when threaded through a needle is excellent for patching nylon, dacron and all types of knitted sweaters, suits, etc.?

These threads also blend beautifully when mending tears in all types of wool clothing. Try it and see if it doesn't work. With a small tear, the thread does not actually have to match the shade of material. You will hardly notice the mended place.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: We never cook prunes any more. We just rinse them in cold water, then cover them with cold water and let them set from 12 to 15 hours. Then we drain off the water, put the prunes in the refrigerator and eat them in place of candy.

Since the prunes remain whole, they will not have lost any of their flavor through cooking.

CLARENCE LIVELY.

theme. Family heirlooms were displayed.

Chinese menus and money were favors.

Miss Patty Prodonovich of Fairview was hostess to her 500 club Wednesday night and two tables were in play.

Prizes were won by the hostess, Mrs. Starlene Drear and Mrs. Marie Adkins. Mrs. Maxine Poff was a guest.

Mrs. Drear of Ohio View will entertain Feb. 25.

sibility for park debts amounting to almost $1,000 each.

The park has operated at a deficit for some time, Dickey said, and money is owed on the community building.

Action on payment of bills totaling $700 for insurance, kitchen equipment, electrical work and other items was delayed by the commission.

A public meeting is scheduled Feb. 27 at the City Hall to further analyze the park problems and financial needs.

A proposed 50-cent special assessment for the park was turned down by voters Feb. 4.

At last night's meeting, the possibility of other means of financing were aired.

It was pointed out the park supporters had hoped to provide an assessment plan in which persons on relief or financially handicapped would not be liable for an assessment. However, legal authorities advised such a plan would be discriminatory and not permitted on the ballot.

At Beauty Week Program

'Miss Leap Year' Receives Crown

Miss Jennifer Thornberry, a junior at Oak Glen High School, was crowned "Miss Leap Year" at the annual observance of "National Beauty Salon Week" sponsored by Unit 15 of the National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association Wednesday night at Westgate School. About 500 attended.

Among the unusual styles modeled were a pink hair color or with a poodle dog, tinted pink, and the current imitation of "The Beatle."

The D. M. Ogilvie Co. provided clothing for a fashion show with Mrs. Otis Gibson commentator.

Mrs. Dorothy Putnam, president, thanked Mayor Merrill Hall for signing the proclamation for the observance. She announced a Valentine Day

KEN MILLER

He'll Start Against Dukes Monday.

Miller Assigned To Willie . . .

Kenny Miller, the one-time clever backcourt ace for the Potters, is scheduled to start for Toledo University Monday night when the Rockets invade Pittsburgh's Civic Arena to meet Red Manning's Duquesne five.

The trip won't actually be a pleasure jaunt for Miller, because once the game starts he will be one of two guards Coach Eddie Melvin plans to use in an effort to stop the Dukes' sensational Wee Willie Somerset, the junior guard headed for All-American honors. Somerset already has broken the individual scoring mark at Duquesne, firing in 47 against Xavier, so Miller has been given a herculean task.

Toledo didn't have much success Wednesday night at Western Michigan when Manny Newsome, one of the leading scorers in the country, hooped 45 points. Western won 81-67.

Miller was so busy worrying about Newsome he didn't get into the scoring column himself.

"That Newsome is unbelievable. There is no one like him," Melvin told us.

Miller has started the last three games for Toledo, moving into the first five after All-American candidate Larry Jones was dismissed from the team for the remainder of the year for disciplinary reasons.

"Before that Kenny was our No. 1 substitute," Melvin said.

Toledo jumped out to a fast start this season and was ranked among the top 10 teams for the first month of the season, but after Jones was dismissed the Rockets have been an up-and-down outfit.

Game time for Monday's game will be 8 p. m.

This 'N That In Sports . . .

ANYMORE, Ed Blazer bowls a 700 series about once a week, at least it seems that way.

Ed did it again Thursday night at the Friendly Bowling Center for the third time this season hitting a 716 series. He rolled a 712 and a 709 on two other occasions not too long ago.

He was rolling for Wellsville Feed in the American League.

IN ANSWER to a question, did Midland scrimmage Canton McKinley before the season started?

Yes, Midland and McKinley scrimmaged at Midland last November and according to someone who was present at the practice session, Midland rolled all over the Bulldogs. It seems the Leopards ever changing defense was too difficult for McKinley to cope with.

A GRID SCOUT for Ohio University was in town Thursday and his main mission was to find a punter. He had in mind Dave Oliver, who got off some tremendous boots for the Potters last season.

Ohio U. may come up with an offer for the East Liverpool kicker.

WADE WATTS, who gave ELHS an undefeated team some 10 years ago, and is now coaching near Lancaster, Ohio, has been mentioned for the Steubenville Big Red job which opened when Roy Hoyman resigned last month.

DENCIL MILLER completed another winning season at Pettisville High School near Toledo. This year's team wound up with a 14-5 mark and tied for the County League championship.

TO CLARIFY the name of a sponsor in the City Basketball League, Uncle Pete's is not sponsored by any business, but individually by Pete Chafalo, Wellsville sportsman and veteran bowler in the district. Pete's boys are doing O.K. too, with a 4-0 record they are setting on top of the league.

THE TRI-STATE basketball tournament has set dates for its 39th annual event. The 1964 edition will be held April 2, 3 and 4 at Memorial Auditorium.

Any additional information may be obtained by calling 385-0034 or writing to 132 E. 6th St. East Liverpool.

KHAJAH Black Shadow, the tri-colored Basenji owned by Mr. and Mrs. James K. Hamilton of East Liverpool placed second in that group at the Westminster Kennel Club Show held Monday and Tuesday at Madison Square Garden in New York City.

Jim tells us that 2,547 dogs were entered and there is nothing quite like the Westminster show.

Joe Nuxhall Signs

CINCINNATI (AP) — Pitcher Joe Nuxhall, who continued his comeback performance for the Cincinnati Reds last year by winning 15 games and losing 8, has signed his 1964 contract, the club said today.

His 1963 earned run average was 2.61 and he struck out 169 batters and walked 39. He completed 14 games, tops among Reds pitchers.

Local Cagers Waiting For Final Buzzer

Midland Five Out To Clinch Section Title

The majority of district basketball squads will wind up their regular season schedule this weekend with 22 games around the area prior to the start of the long tournament trail.

One tournament game is on tap tonight when Stanton Local meets Springfield Local at 6:30 in a Jefferson County Class 'A' clash at the Community Arena in Steubenville.

Section Play Set For Steubenville Arena

Oak Glen Draws Wheeling In Tournament

Oak Glen drew Wheeling High for its first tournament opponent when pairings were made for the Region 1, Section 2 Class AAA Event Thursday night at Wheeling.

OAK GLEN and Wheeling will square off on Monday, March 2 at 8 p.m. at the Community Arena in Steubenville with the winner meeting defending state champion Weirton on Wednesday, March 4 at the same time. George Harris, faculty manager at Weir High, who is serving as tournament director, explained that the tournament was being moved to Ohio because of the larger seating capacity at the Steubenville arena.

na. "It would only be fair to the fans of the three schools to hold the tournament where a large crowd could be accommodated," Harris pointed out.

THE WINNER of the Section 2 tournament will advance to Regional play at Parkersburg March 13-14, with the Regional winner moving to the state finals at Morgantown, March 20-21.

Doors to the Community Arena will open both nights at 6:30 and all seats will be reserved. Tickets will be $1.25 for adults and 50 cents for students.

WHEELING has lost four games this season, dropping two contests to Weirton.

Walter Heil and Eugene Smarrella will officiate the tourney with Merrill Miller of Chester, official timer and Carl Fodor of Weirton, official scorer.

OAK GLEN'S WRESTLING team which chalked up three victories while losing six matches in its first season on the mat is entered in the Ohio Valley Athletic Conference tournament Saturday at Martins Ferry. It will serve for Oak Glen as a warmup to the Regional tournament the following weekend at Parkersburg. Members of the varsity squad include first row—left to right—Roy Baker, manager, Wayne Bunner, Frank Manypenny and Jerry Baxter. Second row—Dave Price, Mike Shroades, Bill Miller and Jim Williams. Third row—Vince Monseu, head coach, Rick Hinds, Tom Bowen, John Rossy and Mike Highfield. Steve Harris, Oak Glen's only undefeated wrestler, was ill.

Hot Warriors Cut Celtics Lead To 2 1/2

By The Associated Press
The most likely Valentine's Day gift the mailman will bring the San Francisco Warriors is a water bomb from opponents anxious to cool off the red-hot West Coasters.

Presumably happy to pay the postage would be the Boston Celtics. Their National Basketball Association Eastern Division lead over Cincinnati was cut to 2 1/2 games by Thursday night's 106-95 drubbing by the Warriors.

San Francisco now holds the same lead over St. Louis in the Western Division, and has taken 18 of its last 24 contests. All other NBA squads took the night off Thursday.

Balanced scoring, keyed by Wilt Chamberlain's 30 points, and a fourth-period surge carried the Warriors to the win.

Tomorrow D-Day For KC Owner

By BOB HOOBING

Associated Press Sports Writer
BOSTON (AP)—England has the Beatles and Joe Cronin the Athletics. With scant hours remaining the American League can't decide whether to sing the "Kansas City blues" or "Where do we go from here, boys?"

At least that was what the 'cats' seemed to be swinging on baseball's "Hit Parade" Friday. And it ain't very cool, man.

Unlike the publicity conscious unbarbered Britons, the American League Board of Directors—who have set Saturday as a deadline for Kansas City owner Charles O. Finley—want things like—mysterious.

Finley was given a two-week extension to come to an agreement with the city on a stadium lease. The time limit is up Saturday. The factions have reached an impasse.

With the heat rising under official collars, President Cronin and league directors held an "informal" meeting here Thursday. No statement was forthcoming other than the "Kansas City situation was discussed."

American League publicist Joe McKennedy, who refused elaboration, reminded questioners that the A.L. is under legal advice not to comment on the Finley case.

Finley and Kansas City officials have had seven meetings. Finley said he would not accept a lease of more than two years. Kansas City negotiators counter with four years or nothing.

Kansas City fathers wired an appeal for Cronin to step in. McKennedy said the plea had been received—"no comment."

Second Loss For Wildcats

Furman Upsets Ranked Davidson, 70-55

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer
Furman made college basketball history a decade ago when the Paladins upset Newberry 149-95 and Frank Selvy scored 100 points for an individual single game NCWA record that still stands.
Exactly 10 years from that historic night of Feb. 13, 1954, Furman turned in another memorable performance by upsetting the Davidson Wildcats, the nation's fourth-ranked team 70-55.

"We have some special plans for them, and we're going to make them work letter perfect," said Furman Coach Lyles before the game.
That's just what his boys did as they avenged an early season 89-63 trouncing by Davidson to hand the Wildcats their second defeat of the season in 20 starts.
A capacity crowd of 5,600, including Frank Selvy as honored guest, howled in glee at Greenville, S.C. as the Paladins turned the game into a rout with a 144 burst late in the game. Drake stayed on top of the Missouri Valley Conference with a 53-50 victory over North Texas, Bradley downed Tulsa 73-64 in overtime, Providence won its 12th straight by defeating Rhode Island 86-72, Wyoming beat Denver 77-68 and Houston whipped Miami, Fla., 93-83 in other Thursday night games.

Davidson, the only team in The Associated Press Top Ten to play, took an early 10-point lead, was ahead at 33-32 in the second half when the inspired Furman players spurred and opened a 17-point lead at 64-47.

Don Frye, with 18 points, and Frank Selvy's brother, David, with 17 led Furman along with Norman Schaffer who held Davidson's star, Fred Hetzel, to 16 points.
Only five games were played that involved Ohio teams Thursday night. Three Buckeye squads played out-of-state teams and all won.
Rio Grande came from behind in the early stages of the second half and went on to edge Campbellsville, Ky., 79-77; Wooster took the lead early and had little trouble defeating Grove City (Pa.) 92-72, and Central State's Marauders coasted to a 102-70 victory at West Virginia State.

In other games, Akron won its 13th of the season against six defeats by outscoring John Carroll 82-58, and Penn's Foxes, with Weldon Kyle's 30 points leading the way, downed Malone 93-84 at Cleveland.
Kyle also pulled down 30 rebounds to break a school record.

A Lot Of 'Ifs' But Pesky Depending On Mound Staff

By JOHNNY PESKY
Boston Red Sox
BOSTON (AP)—We will be out to improve our position in 1964. We have a lot of "ifs" but a great deal depends upon our pitching.
If the pitching is as good as I think it can be, we'll be a contender. It won't be easy because the league will be stronger and better balanced.
Now for the "ifs." If Dick Stuart can keep hitting American League pitching, if Frank Malone can repeat his 1963 season, if our catching improves, if Lu Clinton can come back and have the kind of year he had in 1962, if the young pitchers can do the job.
I really look for the pitching to be better. We've got a good nucleus in 20-game winner Bill Monbouquette, Earl Wilson and young Dave Morehead, who could develop into a real star.

And in Dick Radatz, "The Monster", in the bullpen, ably backed by Jack Lamabe, we've got as fine a relief corps as there is in the league.
I look for Gene Conley to come back. Also Wilson. Earl has a great arm but he was a major disappointment in 1963 after pitching a no-hitter the year before.
I'm counting on Bob Heffner, 4-9 after coming up from Seattle in June; and Bill Spanswick, who could be the strong lefty we need. Spanswick was 14-8 at Seattle with 209 strikeouts in 185 innings.
My infield appears set with Stuart at first, Chuck Shilling at second, Eddie Bressoud at short and Malone at third. Stuart was a pleasant surprise at bat, hitting 42 home runs and driving in 118 runs.
Bressoud showed surprisingly good power with 20 home runs. Roman Mejias and Clinton did not have good years in 1963. It is up to them to show they can hold down regular jobs.

At times Gary Geiger looked like he was ready to take over as a regular in the outfield. He'll be given every chance again this year.
We are hopeful of strengthening our catching before the season gets under way. Bob Tillman didn't hit enough last year and Russ Nixon has handicaps as a receiver.

Salem Knocks East From Tourney, Meets Steubenville For Jr. Title

Pre-tourney favorite East Junior was eliminated from the Junior High cage tournament by a hot-shooting Salem club, 50-47, Thursday in the semi-final round at Memorial Auditorium.
The loss put the erpool entries on after Westgate, the defending tourney champ, was eliminated in the first round.
Saturday's championship game will put Salem against Steubenville at 2 p.m. on the MA floor. Steubenville gained the finals Thursday by doubling the score on Columbia, 48-24.

East Junior and Columbiana will meet for consolation honors Saturday at 1 p.m.
Salem and East were locked in a hard fought battle but the Quakers came up with a good shooting day to spill the Panthers.
The young Quakers took a 12-11 first period edge but the teams battled to a 21-21 half-time deadlock. Salem grabbed a 39-35 lead at the end of the third quarter and managed to squeeze through the fourth period for the three-point margin.

Markovich dropped in 17 points and Jim Cooper added 10 for East. Vern Smith, East's top scorer was held to seven points.
Steubenville had very little trouble with Columbiana. The Stubbers went on top 11-4 at the first quarter mark and led 25-12 at halftime.
Hardney tossed in 19 points to record the highest total of the evening while Ridel scored 14 in Columbiana's losing cause.
Individual and team trophies will be presented Saturday following the championship game.

Cassius Says 8 To Prove He's Great

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — "If you whip me, I'll crawl across the ring on my hands and knees and kiss your feet. If you lose, will you do the same? Answer me, champ, will you do it?"
Cassius Clay, who seems unusually interested in foot kissing, was challenging Sonny Liston Thursday at a unique news conference. Theater Network Television, which will handle the Feb. 25 heavyweight title match, arranged for special closed circuit television from the fighters' camps in Miami Beach to their lab on Long Island.
"About kissing my feet, Cassius," said the heavyweight champion, "If you last through the third round into the fourth, I'll kiss your feet."
Clay and Liston answered questions from newsmen and then jawed back and forth from opposite ends of Miami Beach.
"You want to fight me, winner take all" asked Liston, a challenge that would have warmed the heart of the late Jack Kearns. Jack always was proposing fight - to-the-finish, winner-take-all battles in Nome or Vladivostok.
"I tell you what we'll do," said Clay. "Your backers take their cut and mine take theirs and I'll meet you at the front door."
"Listen, Cassius," said Liston. "I'm gonna give you half of mine if you show up."
Sonny sat at ringside without a smile while Clay tried to bait him with his prediction:
"I'm gonna upset the whole world. I'm bigger than he is. I'll be about 221 pounds. This is not going to be a giant fighting any Floyd Patterson. This man is scared to death. He'll still try to back out of the fight."
When asked if he belonged to the Muslims, a Negro supremacy organization, Clay replied:
"This is fight talk. I have no answer to that kind of question. I want two whole hours on television to tell my whole story after the fight. If I am bad and done wrong, I'm ready to go to jail. I haven't set the dogs on anybody. I'm tending my business."
Liston was asked if he hated Cassius and got this type of an answer:
"I want to leave him with his pretty face so he can get by with it."
Oh yes, Cassius the poet said it again:
"I'm predicting eight to prove I'm great."
The whole show lasted 45 minutes. That may be about 43 minutes longer than the fight.

Allison Signs Contract, Looks At 1st Base Glove

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer
Friday the 13th came on Thursday this month, but that didn't bother W. Robert (Bob) Allison, Minnesota's practitioner of reverse superstition.
Allison, one of the American League's most prolific home run hitters, flouts the superstition surrounding the number 13 by signing his contract every year on the 13th of some month.
In doing so, however, the 29-year-old outfielder actually is superstitious in his own way. He performed the same old ritual Thursday in Orlando, Fla., but it was accompanied by a new ornament — a first baseman's glove.
Allison took the glove to Orlando because either he or fellow slugger Harmon Killebrew may be switched to first base to make room in the outfield for Tony Oliva, a rookie who is given a better-than-even chance of forcing such a move.
It wouldn't be the first time Allison has played first, but he has been slightly less sensational there than Hal Chase.
"I can play first base, and I will if they want me to," Allison said. "I am not afraid to play first base, and I feel I can do an acceptable job."
First base for the Twins could become crowded. Club President Calvin Griffith wants Allison to play there while Manager Sam Mele favors Killebrew because of an operation on his right knee. Incumbent first baseman Vic Power favors neither.

Another outfielder, veteran Duke Snider signed a contract with the New York Mets for a salary similar to Allison's. However the reported $31,500 represents a pay cut of $6,500 following a season in which he batted .243 with 14 homers and 45 runs batted in.
Third baseman Cleto Boyer of the New York Yankees also returned his signed contract.

TUCSON, Ariz. — Rex Baxter beat Earl Ernie Vossler, and might well be reeve the $30,000 Tucson Tournament if s does not cloud the issue.
A signal flare of darkness flashed into the sky with the 27-year-old Baxter from Amarillo, Tex., still on the fairway playing his last hole Thursday.
PGA rules said he could complete it and he did, in almost total darkness with a par and a six-under-par 66 for a round which included four birdies and an eagle.
That equaled the score set by 35-year-old Vossler four hours earlier on Country Club in war sunshine.
A dozen pros didn't finish their opening holes today amid frozen greens would delay the start of play.
Still to finish his 18 was defending champion ar who was one through 17 holes. C. Bolding was three under with two to play.
Tied at 67 going in to the second round were Guy of Carlton Oaks, C. Courtney of San Diego, and Don Massengale of Jacksboro, Tex.

Senate May Investigate Kansas City Situation

By G. MILTON KELLY
WASHINGTON (AP)—The defiant efforts of Charles O. Finley to pull his American League baseball club out of Kansas City threatened today to get tangled in a swelling Senate investigation.
The league already has threatened to revoke Finley's franchise unless he comes to terms which would keep the team in Kansas City.
With Finley showing no sign of yielding to his fellow club owners' ultimatum and threatening an antitrust suit if the league attempts to enforce it, Sen. Edward V. Long, D-Mo., bled away from the flanks with a new threat of trouble for the battling club owner.
Long announced from Kansas City that he was preparing to demand that the Senate antitrust and monopoly investigating subcommittee subpoena Finley for questioning and his financial records for scrutiny in connection with the row.

Long is a member of the subcommittee, and such a request from a member often is granted—but not always. Chairman Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., told a reporter he would await developments before commenting.
The antitrust subcommittee repeatedly has "invited" Finley to testify Tuesday at a hearing which could bring him into a dramatic confrontation with American League President Joe Cronin, a scheduled witness. Cronin, like Long, insists the team must stay in Kansas City.
Hart announced Thursday that Finley hasn't answered the subcommittee's invitations, and the hearings would go ahead with or without him.
The hearings have been a low pressure affair, seeking sports leaders' views on a bill by Hart which would grant professional football, basketball and hockey the same antitrust law exemptions now allowed pro baseball.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: What is the right thing to say when people tell you they think your boy friend is very good-looking?

This happens to me all the time and I'm stuck for an answer. Sometimes I just say, "Thank you." Lately I have been saying, "Yes, I know he is." Neither one of these answers seem right.

I realize this is not a very important problem compared with some you get, but it has been causing me a lot of trouble and I would appreciate any help you can give me. Thank you.

—TONGUE-TIED GIRL.

Dear Girl: Untie your tongue and say, "Yes, he's good-looking, but it's much more important that he's such a fine person."

And if he doesn't happen to be a fine person, you might say, "He is a lot of fun..." or something closer to the truth.

tary but it's terribly important to her boss.

Thank you for listening to the other side of the story.—ANOTHER TELEPHONE PEST.

Dear T.P.: Thank you for "the other side." I've said it before, but once more won't hurt. The telephone calls between a husband and wife are strictly their own business. If the wife makes a nuisance of herself—and some of them unquestionably do—it's up to her husband to tell her.

Telephone Pest

Dear Ann: I'm another one of those "crazy" wives who telephones her husband at the office several times a day. If my husband's secretary is driven to distraction by my "nutty" calls, well, that's just too bad. She'd better quit and go to work for a bachelor or a married man who is not a worrier.

My husband used to get into his car and drive home in the middle of the day to see why I didn't answer the phone. It never occurred to him that I could be in the bathtub, outside emptying the trash, sweeping the walk or just talking to a neighbor.

He just assumed the house had burned down or that I had a horrible accident in the kitchen and was lying unconscious on the floor.

The dear man can't seem to conquer the worry habit, so I make it a practice to let him know whenever I wander outside earshot of the phone. This may seem silly to his secre-

Mother Was A WAC

Dear Ann: I know my mother means well but she is ruining all my friendships. I will be 15 soon and I can't afford to go through life without friends.

The trouble with my mother is that she wants to run everybody's life. Before she got married she was a lieutenant in the WAC and she has been giving orders ever since.

Last week the lieutenant told one of my girl friends her posture was awful and she should stand straight and hold her chin up. I almost died of embarrassment.

The next day she told another friend that her blouse was too dressy for school. The girl felt just awful because she had spent one whole weekend sewing beads on that blouse and she thought it looked beautiful.

Yesterday she told my very dearest friend her hair looked like a haystack and to cut it off and stop bleaching it.

What can I do about this problem?—ELOISE.

Dear Eloise: Your mother means well but she doesn't realize your girl friends are far more sensitive to her criticism than she imagines. Ask her to go easy on your friends—and if you think it will help tell her Col. Landers suggested it.

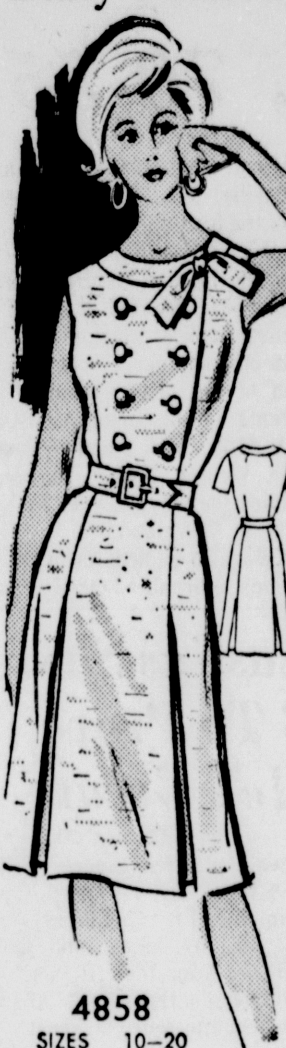

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Bank Teller Admits Hoax, To Face Jury

CLEVELAND (AP) — A 28-year-old bank teller and mother of two who admitted her story about a Mansfield bank robbery was a hoax has been bound over to the federal grand jury.

Mrs. Evelyn Annette Storch was charged Thursday with embezzling $12,180, the amount she claimed was taken Jan. 24 from the bank by a non-existent blonde with a bouffant hairdo. She was held in the Cuyahoga County jail under $2,500 bond.

Precinct Level Place For Glenn, Brown Suggests

CLEVELAND (AP) — Secretary of State Ted W. Brown says Lt. Col. John H. Glenn Jr. should start out in politics at the precinct level as Abraham Lincoln did.

"Experience in government is just as necessary as experience in science or in fathoming the questions of outer space," Brown told a gathering at the Westlake Methodist Church Thursday night.

Brown is campaigning for the Republican nomination for U.S. senator and is opposed by Rep. Robert Taft Jr. of Cincinnati. Glenn seeks the Democratic nomination and will be opposed by incumbent Sen. Stephen M. Young of Cleveland.

Brown complained that "a series of NASA officials" have come to Ohio from Cape Kennedy and Houston, Tex., to run the Glenn campaign.

He added: "Even the wife of another astronaut, Mrs. Scott Carpenter, is billed to appear in Ohio in Glenn's behalf."

"When the star gazing is finally over, the votes in the ballot box will prove once again that Ohioans pretty generally have their feet on the ground."

"These votes will show once again that Ohioans resent interference in their elections by those outside our state."

Bringing Up A Family

By DR. GARRY MEYERS

Sudden Spurt Can Be Enlightening

Yesterday we considered the child who suddenly slumps in school work. Today let us consider the school child who suddenly spurts in success. We don't hear much about him. While a good many parents over the years have written me about the child who suddenly slumps, Dr. Garry Meyers practically none have written me about the lagging child who suddenly excels at school achievement.

Yet there are a number of these. You and I have seen them. I wish you would write me about some of them. What was the nature of their spurt? How did it happen?

JUST AS ALL sorts of hampering emotions not directly related to learning can cause a child to lag slowly or suddenly, so can favorable emotions cause a child to succeed at school, even to increase school success rather suddenly.

If you have observed and recorded a number of successes and happy experiences not directly related to his book learning which your school child had, you might see them running somewhat parallel to his success at school achievement.

What could be more rewarding to you than making such observations? Obviously, here is a rich field for the research student.

Then you might look for new learning skills he has acquired, and better ways of studying, and improved application of effort.

In this column about a year ago, I reported the great gains made in spelling by a 13-year-old boy with whom I worked for an hour a day for five weeks to help him learn to spell. His spelling had been so bad that it was causing him to earn poor or failing grades in most subjects for a few years.

EARLY LAST FALL, he wrote me that his gain in spelling seemed to help in his other school subjects. Believe it or not, he has lately won a place on the honor roll of his school.

There's no more contribution to his success. His older sister, a superior student in the senior year of high school, prevailed on him to work with her an hour an evening last summer for six weeks on Latin in which he had been failing. Having acquired successes in Latin and spelling, he gained new heart and has become a diligent enthusiastic and successful student.

Some children make a spurt at school after they discover ways to read better. Teachers and parents who help poor readers to gain appreciably in reading skill often find these children making gains in all their school work.

Some parents have written me of great forward strides by pupils in the upper grades or students in junior or senior high after they have read with these children in their textbooks in the harder homework assignments. Here is an area of great opportunity for parents to help the child with his assignments.

I SHOULD LIKE to pass on in this column accounts by parents who have helped their children grow from lagging students to average or excellent students. See what all this might mean to your child or mine.

My bulletins, "Home Helps in Reading, Spelling and Arithmetic" and "Helping Child with Lessons at Home," may be secured by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Coin Club Hears Talk On Currency In South

Harold Ginder spoke on currency in the South before the Civil War at a meeting of the East Liverpool Coin Club Tuesday night at the YMCA.

The club is now a life member of the Penn-Ohio Coin Clubs, it was announced. Plans were made for a coin show in May at an East Liverpool site.

About 45 members and six guests attended. Next meeting will be March 10.

Perhaps the oldest prescription ever preserved is one written with a brush on both sides of a smooth piece of limestone called an "ostrakon." In ancient Egyptian characters it prescribes grinding precious stones for fumigation purposes.

RAPPORTS IS FIRST AGAIN

As usual, Rapport's has scored another "first" in East Liverpool. For the first time, an East Liverpool fashion shop—Rapport's—has received an invitation from leading European fashion houses to visit the fashion capitals of the world.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Rapport will fly via Alitalia jet from New York for a 16-day visit in Europe. The first stop on their itinerary will be in Milan, Italy, where today's new Italian looks are making headlines. From Milan they will travel to Florence and then to Rome. With Italy giving fierce competition to Paris for the title of "fashion capital of the world", much time will be spent in personal visits with some of the best-known designers in the world.

Madrid, Spain, is next on the agenda where many outstanding contributions have been made by Spanish designers. Personal contacts with the houses which have brought these dramatic creations to the eyes of world fashion experts are a "must" at this stop.

Last, but not least, Paris beckons with her world renowned fashions. Visits to the exclusive salons are timed to coincide with the new collections offered by the world's most famous designers.

Rapport's are pleased with this invitation and will, as always, be looking for ways to better serve the fashion-conscious women of East Liverpool while touring these widely acclaimed houses and talking with people responsible for the world's taste in fashions.

Cost May Run To $10,000 In OSU Students Uprising
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Six hours of demonstrating by Ohio State University students Wednesday night may have cost as much as $10,000 in damage and police overtime pay, officials say.
The students were protesting the arrest, jailing and alleged mistreatment of a coed for failing to pay a jaywalking fine.
Some 300 police officers—200 of them on overtime—were pressed into service to attempt to control the more than 5,000 young people demonstrating on High Street, a main north-south artery adjacent to the Ohio State campus.
During the demonstration, autos and buses were damaged and traffic was snarled for miles. Bus passengers were delayed for hours.
Officials estimated police overtime would be between $3,000 and $6,000.

Foreign Affairs To Be Voters Top Issue, Taft Says
PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP)—Congressman - at-large Robert Taft Jr. says foreign affairs will be the greatest issue facing the American voters in the November election.
Taft, a Republican candidate for the U.S. senatorial nomination, said the "people are confused and frustrated over the administration's foreign policy."
"Cuba is the No. 1 threat to American peace because Russia is using it as a training center for Africans, and unless the United States takes very positive action Cuba will become the center of a real serious showdown with Russia," Taft asserted.
Speaking during a campaign appearance in Portsmouth Thursday, Taft voiced opposition to President Johnson's proposal of double overtime for some industrial workers. He said it would increase production costs "at a time when the nation is talking of reducing tariffs and the Common Market of Europe is talking about increasing tariffs."
On Medicare, Taft said he doubts the Johnson plan will get out of committee. He said he personally favors assistance to older people who cannot provide for their medical care but on a voluntary basis.

Naples Counsel Hints Plea To U.S. High Court
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Counsel for Joseph (Joey) Naples of Youngstown has indicated it may seek to appeal Naples' two felony convictions to the U. S. Supreme Court.
The State Supreme Court Thursday denied Naples' appeal and let stand a 1-7 year sentence for receiving stolen property and promoting a numbers game balled "Bug." Naples is the brother of Sandy and Billy Naples, slain Youngstown racketeers.
His counsel said a request will be made as soon as possible for a rehearing which could clear the way for an appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court.
Basis of the appeal is the contention that a warrant obtained by police for a search of Naples' home in 1961 was invalid.

4-H News
A new 4-H baby-sitting project has been developed by the Ohio State University extension specialist for 4-H Club members, according to Bob Lewis, assistant county extension agent in 4-H work.
It is designed for members between 14 and 19 and concludes a series of three projects on child development. The project includes instructions and experiences in:
The job of baby-sitting, securing information from the parents, infant care, caring for youngsters of different ages, business arrangements, tools of the trade and safety.

Information may be obtained from county 4-H advisors or the County Extension Service office, 113 S. Market St., Lisbon.

Projects were discussed when the Beaver Local Belles 4-H Club met Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Mary Eleanor Thompson of Cannons Mills Rd., Calcutta, the leader. About 23 attended.
Cindy Cairns, president, conducted business. Kathy Hickman led devotions.
Next meeting will be March 3 from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Thompson.

Today In History

By The Associated Press
Today is Friday, Feb. 14, 1964. There are 321 days left in the year. Today is St. Valentine's Day, honoring the patron of lovers and help of those unhappy in love.

Today's highlight in history:
On this date in 1778, the flag of the United States was first saluted by a foreign nation. The event took place when the Ranger, Capt. John Paul Jones, saluted with 13 guns the flag in Quiberon Bay, France. Adm. La Motte-Picquet returned the salute with nine guns, as authorized by the French court.

On this date:
In 1859, Oregon was admitted to the Union as the 33rd state.

In 1913, President William Howard Taft vetoed the immigration bill because he thought the literacy test objectionable.

In 1936, police at Caracas, Venezuela, killed five persons as mobs demonstrated against a decree establishing a press censorship.

In 1945, Peru, Paraguay, Chile and Ecuador signed up with the United Nations.

Ten years ago — Nationalist Chinese planes from Formosa dumped 30 million propaganda leaflets on Shanghai and other coastal cities on the Communist-held Chinese mainland.

Five years ago — Soviet and Chinese Communist leaders proclaimed their unbreakable solidarity and said that any attempts by so-called "American imperialists and Yugoslav revisionists" to split them were doomed to failure.

One year ago — President John F. Kennedy asked Congress for legislation to provide employment and better educational and health opportunities for the nation's youth.

Junior Editors Quiz on

QUESTION: Is the zodiac a real thing or something astrologers dream up?

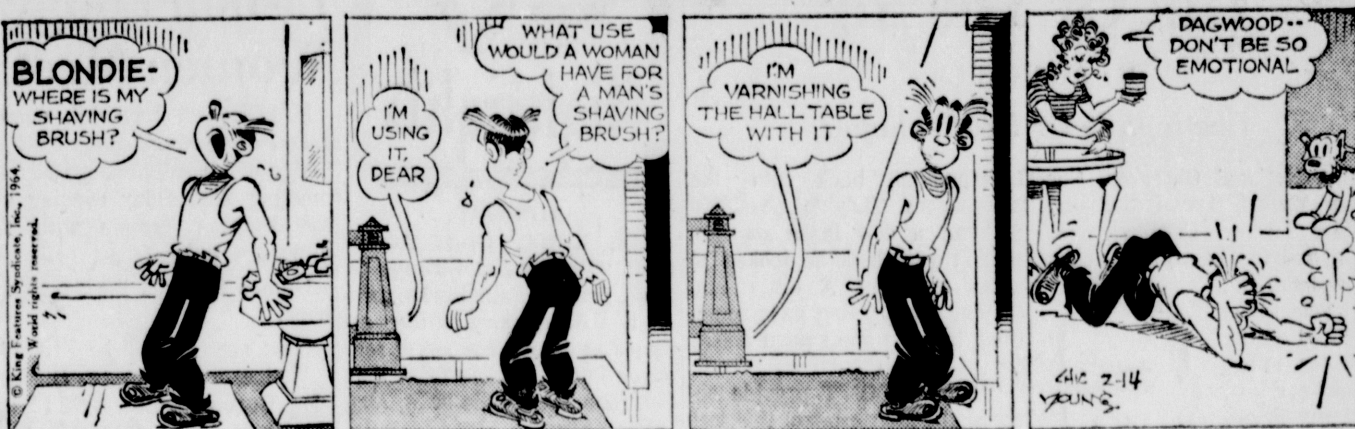

ANSWER: The zodiac is a zone of the heavens within which the moon and planets appear to travel. This zone extends for a fixed distance on either side of the "ecliptic," an imaginary path in the same shape as the earth's path around the sun, only much bigger. In this zone, or belt, are 12 major constellations, the "zodiacal signs," most of which represent animals. The name zodiac comes from the Greek words "zodiakos kylos," meaning circle of animals.

Ancient astrologers divided the zodiac into 12 parts, naming each one for the constellation nearest it. The astrologers then tried to determine the fortunes of people by finding out where the sun, moon and planets stood when a person was born. For example, if the moon was travelling through the part of Pisces, the fishes, when someone was born, this would show something about that person's character and might suggest his future. Today, only people who believe in astrology, think that the signs of the zodiac influence a person's life.

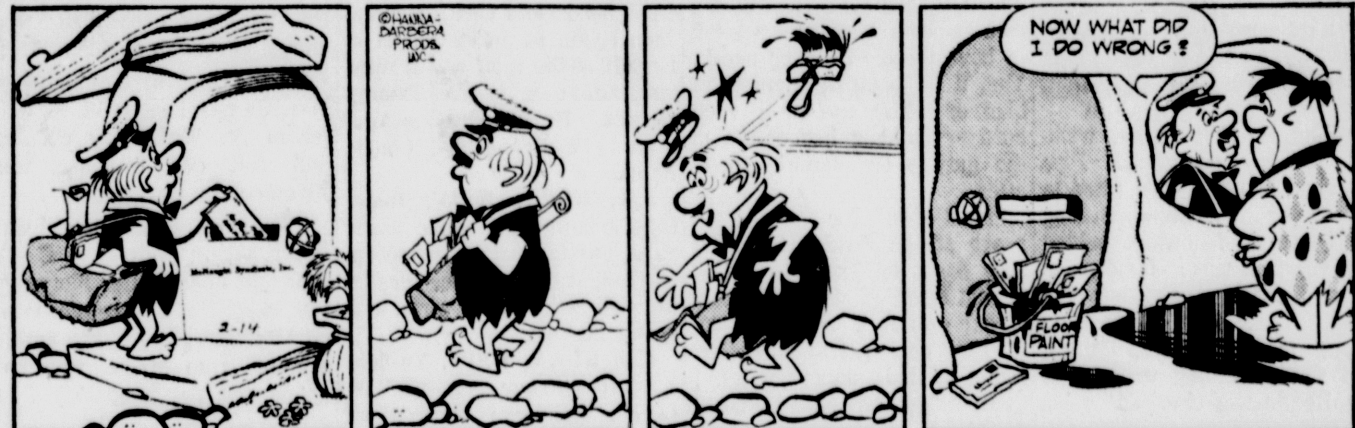

FOR YOU TO DO: Get a book from the library showing the different constellations or signs of the zodiac. See how they look like the animals they represent. Then try to locate some of these constellations in the sky.

Leslie Stern of Pompton Plains, N. J. wins today's grand prize of a 20-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of The Review and you too may win a set.

Beatlephile Or Beatlephobe?

The National Observer, Norman Mailer, David Susskind, Max Lerner, Cardinal Spellman and the Saturday Evening Post have not as yet taken a stand on the Beatles, to my knowledge, but my neighbor, Bill Hartfelt, has.

Past my window last Monday morning went the familiar Hartfelt figure, walking his toy dachshund. Pipe clenched in teeth, chin tilted in an eternal challenge, a long plaid scarf following behind him like the wake of an ocean liner, Hartfelt sloped into the wind. There was something wrong in the picture, though, and the something wrong was the Beatle wig clamped to his noggin.

"HOLD UP!" I cried, racing after him.

"Yah, yah, yah," he responded energetically.

"Beatlephile," I asked, "or Beatlephobe?"

"What does it look like, Gill?" the man roared. "Would I be going about in this infernal rodent's nest if I weren't 100 per cent sold on these fine young men from Liverpool I am many things, but I am not a nut."

"Is the wig the full extent of your commitment?"

"It is not. Either you go all the way with the Beatles, Gill, or you go off somewhere and bury your head in the sand."

"I want to be a man of my own century. I've sent for an electric guitar, even though my favorite Beatle happens to be Ringo Starr, the hairy little fellow who plays the drums."

"I'M HAVING my trousers legs taken in. And I'm taking a night course in musicology at Juilliard. I want to know the difference between diatonic harmony and pandiatonic. The Beatles, I understand, are diatonic."

"Finally, since we've already worn out our recordings of 'I Want To Hold Your Hand' and 'She Loves You,' I taped last night's Ed Sullivan show. So now we've got 'All My Loving' and 'Till There Was You' as bonuses. Yah! yah! yah!"

"Oh, yes, we've also got Beatle sweatshirts, pajamas and scarves, though I haven't as yet been able to locate a soda store that sells Beatle-nut ice cream."

"HARTFELT," I sobbed, "why are you doing all this? What do you see in these lads?"

"Many things, many things. Are you blind? And where is your spirit of transatlantic brotherhood? The English haven't sent us anything since the Lambeth Walk, and I think we ought to be at least polite about it. You don't want us to throw the Beatles back into the royal family's faces, do you?"

"The Beatles are responsible for bringing that lovely word,

Autopsy Slated In Cause Of OU Student's Death

CLEVELAND (AP) — An autopsy is to be performed to determine the cause of death of John W. Pentz, 19, of West Richfield, an Ohio University student who died Thursday in Huron Road Hospital.

Pentz reportedly suffered convulsions Sunday at the university. William Butler, Ohio U. dean of students, said Pentz had gone to Mount St. Mary's Hospital in Nelsonville Sunday.

Butler denied that Pentz was refused admittance to the clinic, as was claimed by the youth's mother, Mrs. Harriet K. Pentz.

The dean said Pentz did not want to be admitted to the clinic and acted against the advice of clinic nurses when he went to Mount St. Mary's.

Butler added that Pentz signed a clinic release before going to the Nelsonville hospital.

Pentz was transferred Monday to Huron Road.

Johnson Visits St. Louis, City Marks Birthday

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — St. Louis begins a two-year celebration of its 200th birthday today with a Valentine's Day visit by President Johnson.

The President may not find the usual Feb. 14 atmosphere of hearts and flowers. Not only will 1,000 Missouri Republicans be pitching political woo at their annual Lincoln Day rally, but some civil rights advocates have threatened to demonstrate.

Johnson will begin the bicentennial celebration with a 20-minute nonpolitical speech to a sell-out crowd of 1,800 at a St. Louis hotel tonight.

The President is scheduled to arrive by plane from Washington at 4:45 p.m. He will visit the partially built 630-foot high gateway arch on the Mississippi riverfront, see a new industrial area and address students and plant a tree at St. Louis University.

The President is scheduled to fly back to Washington tonight.

Comedian Jack Benny Marks 70th Birthday

He doesn't look it or feel it. He makes one comment: "Thank God, I haven't had a sick day in my life."

The other day he had a polyp removed from his nose but that was just a minor interruption in his busy television schedule. The doctors asked him what anesthetic he was allergic to.

"I don't know," he replied. "I've never taken any before. I've never even had a tooth pulled."
